

THE NORTHWEST COIN CLUB

Newsletter – August 2019

P.O. Box 18053 Minneapolis, MN 55418-0053

The August Meeting of the Northwest Coin Club will be on Thursday, August 8, 2019, at the Kenwood Community Center, 2101 West Franklin Avenue in Minneapolis. Informal discussion begins at 6:30 with the business meeting beginning at 7:00.

Our August Speaker introduces himself:

My name is Mickey Tolch, and I'm the owner of More for Coins and Currency in Eden Prairie, Minnesota. At our August 8th meeting I plan to discuss the pros and cons of collecting coins and bullion locally, in person, rather than through the online marketplace.

As a local numismatics and bullion dealer myself, it is easy to understand the challenges of getting collectors to support local dealers and shows. That being said, I plan to highlight some advantages of collecting locally. My hope is that by expressing some of these thoughts to consumers it might compel them to support local businesses.

Inside the “brick and mortar” shop, More For Coins and Currency.

Free Offer:

A NWCC member is looking to dispose of a complete run of The Numismatist, journal of the American Numismatic Association, from 1940 to the present. This is about 950 issues in eight Bankers Boxes. If you have an interest, contact the newsletter editor, NWCC1934editor@gmail.com.

Free Ads in the Newsletter. Any club member can place a similar ad in the club newsletter. Just send it to the newsletter editor one week prior to publication date or two weeks before the next club meeting.

2018 State Fair exhibit photos:

The 2018 State Fair Sweepstakes winning exhibit and first place in the coins division was a set of Jefferson Nickels submitted by a Northwest Coin Club member. While coin show exhibits would never indicate the name of the exhibitor, the State Fair, with two million visitors, shows the name of the exhibitor.

American Numismatic Association President, Gary Adkins, studies an exhibit of Minnesota state wooden nickels. This exhibit took fourth place.

This exhibit of Disney Dollars took first place in the paper money category.

An exhibit of United States dollar coins took second place in the coins category.